CRITICAL THINKING ACIVITY:

As technology advances and the global economy changes, many traditional jobs are changing or disappearing, while new jobs are being created. Think about a career that interests you and how it might change in the next 10 to 20 years. What skills do you think will be important to keep up with these changes, and how can you prepare for a future in this field? Write at least 200 words about how this career could change and what you can do to be ready for it.
