CHAT – Under our feet

This week you need to chat whilst walking!

I am sure you have been on lots of walks in your local area, this time I would like you to go on a walk and draw a map as you go.

What is right under your feet that you may not have noticed before? Or maybe you notice something every time!

Put any landmarks on and you might choose to use a key to make your drawing easier.

Discuss what keys you might use and what buildings you are going to include before you go.

French

You were all becoming great French speakers at school.

Can you ask your grown up their name? Explain to them how to answer in French.

“Comment tu t’appelles?”

“Je m’appelle....”

PLAY

Offline activities

Religious questions

Let’s play an imaginary game. Close your eyes and imagine that when you open them a religious leader is in the room. This could be God, Allah, Guru Nanak or another leader. What would you ask them...and why?

Rounders

Last week you practiced throwing a ball underarm. What happened to the ball when you threw it? Was it caught?

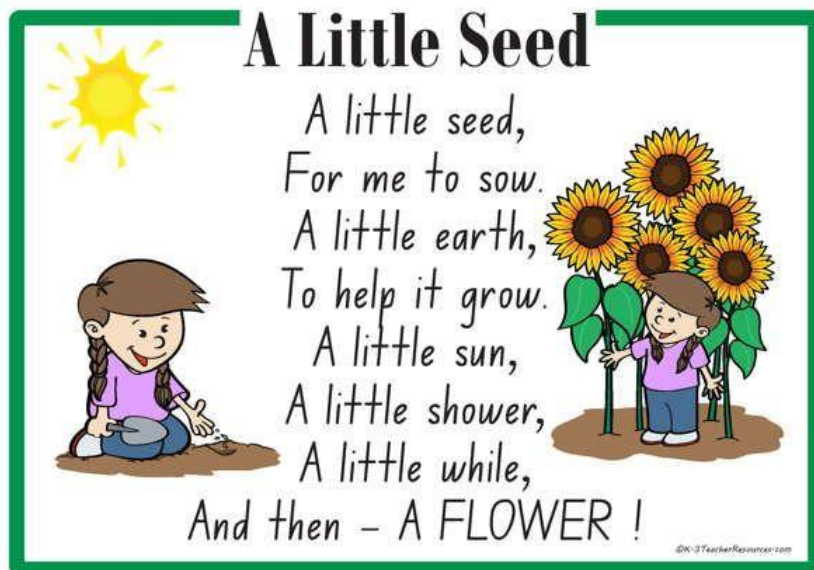

This week you are still on the fielding team, how well can you catch a ball?

Handwriting

Well done to the heroes from last week; Antonia from Hazel, Amalie from Holly and Amelia from Hornbeam.

I am looking for three new heroes this week. Remember to form your letters correctly and ensure your ascenders are taller than other letters.

Good luck!

Send a copy of your poem to Mrs Johnson via Purple Mash email.

Online activities

In Geography we are learning about map reading. This is a really important skill that was used long before Google maps and Satnavs! Watch the video in the link and complete the activities.

Read

I hope you enjoyed chapter 1 of our new book Clean Sweep. This week your task is to read chapter 2 and complete the online quiz and character task- you will find these in your 2Dos.

Spellings

How have you been getting on with your spellings? Try pyramid writing to help you memorise the spellings. If you can, tell us how many you can spell correctly.
