Dear Parents/Carers,

Secondary Transition Day: Thursday 8th July

We have been informed by the Stevenage secondary schools that, due to current COVID restrictions, they will be unable to go ahead with the planned Transition Day on Thursday 8th July.

We have been sent the following information from the Stevenage secondary schools:

Instead of transition days, schools should provide a series of transition events (the majority of which will be virtual). Stevenage Schools will be launching their Transition Day virtual events on Thursday 8th July. Full details will be on our school websites soon and we will write to our future students and families outlining what we will provide for them. We will also send a copy of this communication to Primary School Headteachers. Virtual events may include online assemblies, virtual tours and transition activities for students.

In addition to these virtual events, schools will contact those families who have vulnerable children (SEND, CLA) for small group on site visits and we will build normal transition activities into our Year 7 summer school and September induction days.

If possible, we would ask that you keep your child at home on Thursday 8th July in order to support them to access their Transition Day virtual events. This would also enable us to continue with our planned transition events at Fairlands, with all children from Nursery to Year 5 spending time in their new classrooms with their new teachers.

If you are not able to keep your child at home, please complete the slip below requesting onsite provision. Please note that we cannot guarantee your child will be able to access their secondary school virtual transition events if in school with us.

Secondary Transition Day: Thursday 8th July

I am unable to keep my child at home on Thursday 8th July and wish for them to attend school at Fairlands for the day.

I realise that by attending Fairlands on Thursday 8th July they may miss out on accessing any virtual transition activities provided by their secondary school.
